ADVENTURE AND MYSTERY

- Peter Abrahams Into the Dark An idyllic day of snowshoeing on Grampy's land with Joey Strade turns out to be less than idyllic for teenage super-sleuth Ingrid Levin-Hill when she stumbles upon a body in the snow. The discovery sends the town of Echo Falls into a tailspin, and Grampy is sent to jail.
- David Almond Bone Music Sylvia has never been so far away. Her mother has brought her to this village, this place of silence and dark, endless forest, and she yearns for the city, the bright lights, her friends, even a phone signal. Late one night she hears the music, a weird spiralling sound. It is played by Gabriel, a troubled beautiful boy.
- Kirsty Applebaum Troofriend What if you could have the perfect best friend? Someone who would never argue with you and was always on your side? What if you could choose their hairstyle, their clothes, the colour of their eyes? What if they would do anything for you? Would it matter if they weren't human.
- Kirsty Applebaum The Middler Maggie's never thought much about the Quiet War. It's just somewhere the eldest kids get sent when they turn fourteen, like her big brother, Jed. But when she meets Una, a wanderer from outside the town boundary, she starts to see things differently. What if everything she's been told is wrong?
- J.J. Arcanjo Crook Haven (Book 1 The School for Thieves) (BBA 2024 Longlist)
When talented pickpocket Gabriel is recruited to Crookhaven, he is welcomed into a whole new world. This secret school trains its students in classes like Forgery, Deception and Crimnastics – all so that one day they will go out into the world and do good.
- Alasdair Beckett-King Murder at the Museum Bonnie Montgomery is the world's greatest detective. Not that anyone – other than Grampa Banks – has heard of her....But they will have heard of Montgomery Bonbon, the gentleman detective who (apart from the beret and the bristling moustache) looks suspiciously like a ten-year-old girl. Their case: a mysterious death at the Hornville Museum.
- Susie Bower The Three Impossibles Mim grew up surrounded by secrets. On the day she was born, her mother died and a strange curse was cast upon her family. Ever since, she's been isolated in a dismal castle behind high walls, forbidden from venturing to the Outside. But Mim has never been able to stop asking questions. And when her father hires a bogus governess, Madame Marionette – who brings along an entourage of thugs and a secret, caged 'pet' – Mim sets her enquiring mind to work on unravelling the mysteries around her.
- Tim Bowler Storm Catchers Fin is devastated when his sister is kidnapped. Poor frightened Ella, snatched away from the house in the middle of a storm. Fin will never forgive himself for leaving her on her own. Still, at least they'll get her back when they've paid the money. However, the kidnapper has more than just money on his mind. As his plans unfold, Fin and his family are forced to confront their deepest darkest secrets. A storm is breaking, and it's going to change everything....

Tim Bowler

River Boy (Carnegie Winner 1997) Grandpa is dying. He can barely move his hands any more but, stubborn as ever, refuses to stay in hospital. He's determined to finish his last painting, 'River Boy', before he goes. At first Jess can't understand his refusal to let go, but then she too becomes involved in the mysterious painting. And when she meets the river boy himself, she finds she is suddenly caught up in a challenge of her own that she must complete – before it's too late

Sita Brahmachari

Where the river runs gold Kairos City was beautiful once, before the storm. Now the flowerbeds are built over with brick, the bees are long gone and the children are sent to Freedom Fields to pollinate crops by hand for the good of the nation. Eleven-year-old Shifa knows her twin Themba won't survive this harsh existence for long: they have no escape. But then she uncovers an impossible secret. If she can protect it on their perilous journey home, Shifa could change everything....

Sita Brahmachari

When Secrets set Sail Years ago, it was The House of the Ayahs, giving shelter to nannies who couldn't return to their homeland. Now, it is a refugee centre – facing the threat of closure. Quiet Usha instantly clashes with fiery new arrival Imitiaz. But then a surprising visitor delivers a message: a broken promise from the house's past must be fixed. Only by working together can the girls set the secrets of generations free, and save their home

- Katherine Rundell The Wolf Wilder Feodora and her mother live in the snowbound woods of Russia, in a house full of food and fireplaces. Ten minutes away, in a ruined chapel, lives a pack of wolves. Feodora's mother is a wolf wilder, and Feo is a wolf wilder in training. A wolf wilder is the opposite of an animal tamer: it is a person who teaches tamed animals to fend for themselves, and to fight and to run, and to be wary of humans.

Katherine Rundell	The Explorer From his seat in the tiny aeroplane, Fred watches the mysteries of the Amazon jungle pass by below him. He has always dreamed of becoming an explorer, of reading his name among the lists of great adventurers. If only he could land and look about him. As the plan smashes into the canopy, Fred is suddenly left without a choice. He and the three other children may be alive, but the jungle is a vast, untamed place. With no hope of rescue, the chance of getting home feels terrifyingly small
Annet Schaap	Lampie (Carnegie 2020 Longlist) Every evening Lampie the lighthouse keeper's daughter must light a lantern to warn ships away from the rocks. But one stormy night disaster strikes. The lantern goes out, a ship is wrecked and an adventure begins. In disgrace, Lampie is sent to work as a maid at the Admiral's Black House, where rumour has it a monster lurks in the tower. But what she finds there is stranger and more beautiful than any monster. Soon Lampie is drawn into a fairy tale adventure in a world of mermaids and pirates, where she must fight with all her might for friendship, freedom and the right to be different
Marcus Sedgwick	Wrath (Carnegie Longlist 2023) Cassie Cotton has always been unusual, a bit different – but this only makes her more intriguing to her school friend Fitz. Cassie can hear a noise that no one else can, and she believes it's a sound that shows the Earth is in distress, damaged by human activity that is causing climate change. When this belief leads to her being ridiculed and bullied at school, Cassie disappears. Fitz is determined to find her, but he has no idea where to start looking, or if he'll be in time to help her....
Marcus Sedgwick	Revolver Gripping psychological revenge thriller set in Alaska in 1910.
Kim Slater	Smart There's been a murder, but the police don't care. It was only a homeless old man after all. Kieran cares.

Rebecca Stead	First Light Peter can't wait to join his parents on a scientific expedition to the ice caps of Greenland. But while he's there, he begins to suspect there might be another reason for this trip. And in another world, there is Thea, who lives with her family under the ice, as is desperate to see what's above it. When Thea and Peter meet, two worlds will collide, and a host of secrets will be released.
Robin Stevens	Murder Most Unladylike Daisy Wells and Hazel Wong set up a secret detective agency at Deepdean School for Girls. Then they find a dead Science Mistress in the Gym.
Robin Stevens/Siobhan Dowd	The Guggenheim Mystery This summer, I went on holiday to New York, to visit Aunt Gloria and Salim. While I was there, a painting was stolen from the Guggenheim Museum, where Aunt Gloria works. Everyone was worried and upset. I did not see what the problem was. I do not see the point of paintings, even if they are worth £9.9 million. Perhaps that's because of my very unusual brain, which works on a different operating system to everyone else's.
Lucy Strange	The Secret of Nightingale Wood 1919. Mama is ill. Father has taken a job abroad. Nanny Jane is too busy to pay any attention to Henrietta and the things she sees – or thinks she sees – in the shadow of their new home. All alone, Henry discovers that Hope House is full of strange secrets: a forgotten attic, ghostly figures, mysterious firelight that flickers in the trees beyond the garden. One night she ventures into the darkness of Nightingale Wood. What she finds there will change her whole world....

Cassy does her best to throw herself into her mother's life, even agreeing to take part in their travelling show called 'Wolf'. But she can't ever get rid of the feeling that something is following her, and something bad is going to happen. Her fear grows as time passes, until Cassy knows she must face up to her past: who her father is, why he left and where he has gone. What she doesn't know is that some questions are better left unanswered...
Sarah Crossan	One Grace and Tippi are twins - conjoined twins. And their lives are about to change.
Christopher Paul Curtis	Bud, not Buddy (Lit in Colour Reading List) Bud (not Buddy) is ten years old and all alone in the world. Hi Momma never told him who his father was, but she did leave one important clue...Armed with his suitcase of secret things and his own Book of Rules, Bud runs away from his horrible foster family. His journey is full of surprises, but will it lead him to his father?
A.M. Dassu	Boy, Everywhere Sami is a typical 13 year-old: he loves his friends, football, PlayStation and iPad. But a bombing in a mall changes his life. Sami and his family flee their comfortable home in Damascus to make the perilous and painful journey towards a new life in the UK. Leaving everything behind, Sami discovers a world he'd never encountered – harsh, dangerous, but also at times unexpectedly kind and hopeful.
Deborah Ellis	The Breadwinner Afghanistan: Parvana's father is arrested and taken away by Taliban soldiers. Under Taliban law, women and girls are not allowed to leave the house on their own.

Akwaeke Emezi	PET (Carnegie Longlist 2021) There are no monsters any more, or so the children in the city of Lucille have been taught. Jam and her best friend, Redemption, have grown up with this lesson all their lives. But when Jam meets Pet she begins to question what she's been told. Pet has come to hunt the evil lurking in Redemption's house....But how do you save the world from monsters if no one will admit they exist?
Anne Fine	Tulip Touch Nobody wants Tulip in their gang. She skives off school, cheeks the teachers and makes herself unpopular with her classmates by telling awful lies.
Anne Fine	Flour Babies (Carnegie Medal Winner 1992) When the annual school science fair comes round, Mr Cartright's class don't get to work on the Soap Factory, the Maggot Farm or the Exploding Custard Tins. To their intense disgust they get the Flour Babies – sweet little six-pound bags of flour that must be cared for at all times. Young Simon Martin, a committed hooligan, approaches the task with little enthusiasm. But, as the day pass, he not only grows fond of his flour baby, he also comes to learn more than he ever could have imagined about the pressures and strains of being a parent
Ele Fountain	Boy 87 Shif is just an ordinary boy who likes chess, maths and racing his best friend home from school. But one day, soldiers with guns come to his door – and he knows that he is no longer safe. Shif is forced to leave his mother and little sister, and embark on a dangerous journey; a journey through imprisonment and escape, new lands and strange voices, and a perilous crossing by land and sea. He will encounter cruelty and kindness; he will become separated from the people he loves.
Zana Fraillon	The Ones that Disappeared Some stories need to be told....A moving, beautifully-written and poignant novel about child trafficking and the search for freedom. Kept by a ruthless gang, three children manage to escape from slavery. But freedom isn't just waiting on the outside. Separated, scared and looking after a small child, Esra will do whatever she can to reunite with her friend Miran, who was captured by the police – the police who she mustn't trust. Hiding in the shadows of the forest, Esra is found by a local boy with his own story. Together they will create a man out of mud. A man who will come to life and lead them through a dark labyrinth of tunnels until they finally have the courage to step above ground. Until they finally have the courage to speak their story. Until they finally have the courage to be free.
Zana Fraillon	The Lost Soul Atlas For as long as Twig can remember, it's been him and Da – family over everything. So when Twig finds himself alone on the streets, he feels totally lost. That is until he meets Flea, a cheerful pickpocket, who feels like the best friend he never had. But then Twig wakes up in the Afterlife with just a handful of memories from Earth and one big question – how did he get there?
G.R. Gemin	Sweet Pizza Joe loves his Italian heritage: the language, the opera, the lasagne! But it's hard to celebrate his Italian roots in Bryn Mawr, South Wales, where his mam is tired of running the family's tatty cafe. Just like his great-grandfather who opened the cafe in 1929, Joe is an entrepreneur. He vows to save the family business, and to spice up the tired High Street with a little Italian flavour!
Alex Gino	George BE WHO YOU ARE. When people look at George, they think they see a boy. But she knows she's not a boy. She knows she's a girl.
Kiran Millwood Hargrave	Julia and the Shark (Carnegie Shortlist 2023) When her father is required to repair a remote lighthouse on a remote island, Julia finds herself on a strange and magical summer holiday. Her mother becomes increasingly determined to find the great Greenland shark – an awesome but elusive creature that soon fills Julia's thoughts as well.
Helen Harvey	Emmy levels up Emmy is brilliant at the computer game, Illusory Isles. Her avatar is a powerful fire elemental with magma claws and flaming breath. When Emmy's gaming video gets a front-page feature, thousands of devoted fans flock to watch her battle the ultimate online baddie, the Mulch Queen herself. Life at school is the exact opposite. Emmy is friendless and bullied by Vanessa AKA the Queen of Mean. To Vanessa and her gang, Emmy is a weirdo with bad handwriting, horrible fashion sense and no dad. But if Emmy can take on the Mulch Queen online, perhaps she can also find a way to take on Vanessa too?

One Silver Summer After losing her mum in an accident, Sass is sent to live with her uncle in England. Far from her native Brooklyn, the rocky shores and crumbling castles of Cornwall seem like the perfect place to hide her grief. And when she stumbles across a silver horse in a sunlit meadow Sass feels a surprising sense of peace....only to have it broken by a boy. Arrogant and distrustful, the horse's trainer, Alex, doesn't approve of the trespassing American. Yet after a few chance meetings, he begins to feel a connection to the curious girl with the sad eyes, and offers to teach her to ride. Sass never expected to feel anything again – least of all love – but the lessons reveal a far different Alex, and soon their friendship turns into something more. But Alex has a secret- a bombshell about his family that could shatter Sass's trust....and force him to abandon the one girl who made him believe in himself.

In the Key of Code (Carnegie Longlist 2021) When twelve-year-old Emmy starts a new school, she has never felt more out of tune. But in her computer science class, taught by the wonderful Ms Delaney, Emmy discovers that music is the key to unlocking the secrets of coding. As she finds a friend in classmate Abigail and falls in love with programming, she stops feeling like a wrong note and starts to feel like she truly belongs.

- Yassmin Abdel-Magied You must be Layla Layla believes she was right to stand up for herself against a bully, but it's landed her a suspension – not the way she (or her parents) would have wished to begin her time at her fancy new school! This is just a setback though, and she's determined to prove that she does deserve her scholarship by making new friends and setting her sights on inventing something that could win the big robotics competition.
- Jenny McLachlan Stargazing for Beginners When Meg looks at the stars, she sees adventure. She sees escape. She sees her future. Meg's big ambition is to become an astronaut. But her hopes are thrown into chaos when her mum disappears to follow up yet another of her Very Important Causes....and leaves Meg and her baby sister behind. Can Meg take care of Elsa and still follow her own path? She'll need a miracle of cosmic proportions. But then nobody ever got anywhere by dreaming small....
- Elle McNicoll A Kind of Spark Addie knows exactly who she is. Addie knows that sharks are more interesting than dolphins, she knows her favourite words in the thesaurus, and she knows that her older sisters are opposites.
- Beverley Naidoo The Other Side of Truth This is the story of 12 year-old Sade and her brother Femi who flee to Britain from Nigeria.
- Sally Nicholls Ways to Live Forever My name is Sam. I am eleven years old. I collect stories and fantastic facts. By the time you read this, I will probably be dead.
- Susin Nielsen No fixed address (Carnegie 2020 Longlist) Felix Knutsson and his mum Astrid have a secret: they are living in a van. Astrid promises it's only till she finds a new job, and begs Felix not to breathe a word. So when Felix starts at a new school, he does his best to hide it from his friends, even though his home has some serious downsides, like no privacy, heating, space and – worst of all – no bathroom. But Felix has a plan to turn his and Astrid's lives around. All he needs is a little luck and a lot of brain power....
- Karyn Parsons How High the Moon It's 1944, and in a small Southern town in the USA, eleven-year-old Ella spends her days running wild with her cousins and friends. But life isn't always so sunny. The deep racial tension that divides their town never goes away, and Ella misses her Mama – a beautiful jazz singer, who lives in Boston.
- Onjali Q. Rauf The Boy at the Back of the Class There used to be an empty chair at the back of my class, but now a new boy called Ahmet is sitting in it. He's nine years old (just like me), but he's very strange. He never talks and never smiles and doesn't like sweets – not even lemon sherbets, which are my favourite! But then I learned the truth: Ahmet really isn't very strange at all. He's a refugee who's run away from a War. A real one. With bombs and fires and bullies that hurt people. And the more I find out about him, the more I want to help. That's where my best friends Josie, Michael and Tom come in. Because you see, together we've come up with a plan....
- Onjali Q. Rauf The Star outside my Window I've always wanted to be a star hunter. Grown-ups call them astronomers, but I think Star Hunter sounds much better. I was going to become one when I finished school, but I can't wait that long any more. You see, I have to find my mum. Everyone says she's gone, but I know that's not true – I know she's turned into a star. She's breaking all the rules of the universe to find me again. And I'm going to break all the rules I know to help her do it.
- Jason Reynolds Look both ways (Carnegie shortlist 2021) When the bell rings and school is finished for the day, the walkers are finally set free. For ten blocks they have no-one telling them what to do; they can talk about bogies, skateboard, plan dramatic escapes, make jokes, face bullies, and hear about the school bus that fell from the sky....
- Jewell Parker Rhodes Ghost Boys ALIVE – Twelve year old Jerome doesn't get into trouble. He goes to school. He does his homework. He takes care of his little sister. The Jerome is shot by a police officer who mistakes his toy gun for a real threat.

DEAD – As a ghost, watching his family trying to cope with his death, Jerome begins to notice other ghost boys. Each boy has a story and they all have something in common....Bit by bit, Jerome begins to understand what really happened – not just to him, but to all of the ghost boys.

Or try to. He changes his name and the way he looks. He leaves home and finds himself caught up in a series of strange and extraordinary misadventures. He even falls in love. But is David really in control of his life? And if he isn't – who is?

Libby Scott & Rebecca Westcott

Ways to be me Ten-year-old Tally had high hopes for year six. Being in the top class at school means there is a lot to look forward to - the most important thing being the school production. Tally is convinced she'll win the lead role. But at home...things aren't going so well. Mum and Dad have been making Tally feel pressured and upset, and Tally wishes things didn't bother her so much - but they do, and sometimes she feels so misunderstood and frustrated, she could explode. Then Tally's Mum and Dad tell her about somethings she's never heard about before, something called Autism, and everything changes.

Libby Scott & Rebecca Westcott

Can you see me? Tally is autistic, but she hides it as much as she can. She knows how uncomfortable people feel around her – they don't understand autism. They don't understand her. By masking her autism, Tally is hiding her real self, but when your real self is fierce and wonderful, it can't stay hidden forever.

Libby Scott & Rebecca Westcott

Do you know me? (Sequel to Can you seem me?) Tally is autistic and proud. She used to try to hide her autism, but now she is determined to make sure people see who she really is.

Rebecca Stead

Goodbye Stranger Bridge has always been a bit of an oddball, but since she recovered from a serious accident, she's found fitting in with her friends increasingly hard. Tab and Em are getting cooler and better and they don't get why she insists on wearing novelty cat ears every day. Bridge just thinks they look good.

William Sutcliffe

The Summer we turned Green It's the summer holidays, and thirteen-year-old Luke's life has been turned upside down. First his older sister Rose moved 'across the road', where a community of climate rebels is protesting the planned airport expansion. Then his Dad followed her. Dad only went to get Rose back, but now he's out there building totem poles, wearing sandals and drinking mead (whatever that is) with the best of them....Can Luke save his family when all they want to do is save the planet?

Jenna Evans Welch

Love & Gelato Lina is spending the summer in Tuscany, fulfilling her mother's dying wish that she should get to know her father.
