ACTION, ADVENTURE AND MYSTERY

- Akala The Dark Lady A pickpocket with an exceptional gift. A prisoner of extraordinary value. An orphan haunted by dreams of the mysterious Dark Lady.
- Emily Barr The Girl who came out of the Woods Arty has lived in a hidden matriarchy in the hills of India all her life. But now a deadly plague is threatening her tiny commune, and she must leave her home and go into the modern world for help, before it's too late.
- Andreina Cordani The Girl Who....Leah is the perfect survivor. She was seven years old when she saw her mother and sister killed by a troubled young man. Her case hit the headlines and her bravery made her a national sweetheart: strong, courageous and forgiving. But Leah is hiding a secret about their deaths. And now, ten years later, all she can think of is revenge.
- Tracy Darnton The Rules When a letter from her dad arrives, Amber knows she's got to drop everything and run. He's managed to track her down and he'll stop at nothing to draw her back into his extreme prepper way of life. Now the Rules she's been trying to escape are the ones keeping her safe. But for her long?
- Jennifer Donnelly A Gathering Light Based on a real murder at the turn of the century, this outstanding debut novel is a powerful and moving coming-of-age book. Mattie is torn between her familial responsibilities, her desire to be a writer, and the excitement of a first romance. Her dilemmas and choices are quietly reflected in the life of a young woman found drowned in a lake, a woman that Mattie only gets to know through reading her letters. When finally the tales of Mattie and the drowned girl merge, their stories beautifully combine in a brilliant and perfect conclusion
- Siobhan Dowd Bog Child (Carnegie Winner 2009) Digging for peat in the mountain with his Uncle Tally, Fergus finds something that makes his heart stop. Curled up deep in the bog is the body of a child. And it looks like she's been murdered. As Fergus tries to make sense of the mad world around him – his brother on hunger-strike in prison, his growing feelings for Cora, his mam and da arguing over the Troubles, and him in it up to the neck - a little voice comes to him in his dreams, and the mystery of the bog child unfurls.
- Louise Finch The Eternal Return of Clara Hart (2023 Carnegie Shortlist) Wake up. Friday. Clara Hart hits my car. Go to class. Anthony rates the girls. House party. Anthony goes upstairs with Clara. Drink. Clara dies. Wake up. Friday again. Clara Hart hits my car. Why can't I break this loop?
- Marie-Louise Fitzpatrick On Midnight Beach 1976. It's a summer different to any other. The days are hot, hot, hot and a dolphin has turned up in Ross Bay. Emer sneaks to the beach at midnight to swim with the wild visitor....and to meet Dog Cullen with his lovely eyes, one green, one blue. Who cares if a neighbouring town is raging about the fortune 'dolphin fever' brings to Emer's village? Emer has never felt so alive.
- Lisa Fuller Ghost Bird Stacey and Laney are twins – mirror images of each other – and yet they're as different as the sun and the moon. Stacey works hard at school, determined to get out of their small town. Laney skips school and sneaks out of the house to meet her

- boyfriend. But when Laney disappears one night, Stacey can't believe she's just run off without telling her.
- Kathleen Glasgow The Agathas After falling from grace last summer, Agatha Christie-obsessed Alice Ogilvie needs to stay out of trouble. While smart and reclusive Iris Adams just want to get out of Castle Cove. But now they have a murder to solve. There are clues the police are ignoring, a list of suspects a mile long and some very dangerous cliffs. Amateur detectives Alice and Iris are about to uncover just how many secrets their sleepy seaside town is hiding....
- Sharon Gosling The Diamond Thief (The Diamond Thief Trilogy Book 1) No one performs on the circus trapeze like sixteen-year old Remy Brunel. But Remy also leads another life, prowling through the backstreets of Victorian London as a jewel thief. Forced by the evil circus owner Gustave to attempt the theft of one of the world's most valuable diamonds, she discovers an underworld of treachery and fiendish plots. Meanwhile, young detective Thaddeus Rec is determined to find the jewel and clear his name. Will Thaddeus manage to rescue the jewel? Or is it really Remy that he needs to save?
- Alwyn Hamilton Rebel of the Sands Dustwalk is Amani's home. The desert sand is in her bones. But she wants to escape. More than a want. A need. Then a foreigner with no name turns up to save her life, and with him the chance to run. But to where? The desert plains are full of danger. Sand and blood are swirling, and the Sultan's enemies are on the rise.
- Charlie Higson Young Bond: Bloodfever An Eton boy's family disappears at sea. James uncovers a shadowy society operating in a hidden corner of the school. And far from England, in the bandit-infested interior of Sardinia, a sinister Italian count has built himself a mountain fortress. Is there a connection? Young Bond is about to find out - and face a lethal group of villains beneath the burning Mediterranean sun.
- Matt Killeen Devil, Darling, Spy Sarah is used to spying in the champagne-fuelled parties of Nazi Berlin. But now she must track a deadly virus through central Africa and unmask the mysterious White Devil before the disease can be turned into a weapon. They think she is a terrified little girl. But she is a warrior set to burn them all.
- Elizabeth Laird Paradise End Carly is fascinated by Paradise End, the mysterious, luxurious mansion near her own boring house. She imagines herself leading a life of glamour and excitement behind its grand wrought-iron gates, but she must always return to her dull, normal life. The one day Carly meets Tia, who invites her inside Paradise End. Tia's family is fabulously rich and extravagant but, as the two girls become closer friends, Carly begins to uncover awful secrets that lie beneath the glittering façade....
- Richard Lambert The Wolf Road (Carnegie Longlist 2022) When Lucas survives the car accident that kills his parents, one memory stays with him – of the wolf that caused the crash. Forced to leave his home and live with his nan in the remote wilderness of the Lake District, Lucas struggles to adjust to his strange, new world. And when he learns that a wild creature is killing livestock on the mountains, he knows it's the wolf, that it's come for him, and that he must face it.
- Tricia Levenseller Daughter of the Pirate King Sent on a mission to retrieve an ancient hidden map-the key to a legendary treasure trove-seventeen-year-old pirate captain Alosa deliberately allows herself to be captured by her enemies, giving her the perfect opportunity to search their ship. More than a match for the ruthless pirate crew, Alosa has only one thing standing between her and the map: her captor, the unexpectedly clever and unfairly attractive first mate, Riden. But not to worry, for Alosa has a few tricks up her sleeve, and no lone pirate can stop the Daughter of the Pirate King.
- Geraldine McCaughrean Where the World Ends In the summer of 1727, a group of men and boys are put ashore on a remote sea stac to harvest birds for food. No one returns to collect them. Why? Surely nothing but the end of the world can explain why they have been abandoned to endure storms, starvation and terror. How can they survive, housed in stone and imprisoned on every side by the ocean?

Nadia Mikail

The Cats we meet along the way Aisha hasn't seen her sister for a long time. Two years ago, June left the family home and didn't look back, taking her pink hair and her strong, stubborn personality with her. But now time is running out and priorities have changed. With her boyfriend and his parents (as well as a stray cat called Fleabag), Aisha and her Mak take a roadtrip through Malaysia in search of June – hoping to put the past to rest, to come to terms with the present, and perhaps even to hope for the future.

Paula Rawsthorne

The truth about Celia Frost Celia Frost's life is ruled by a rare disorder that means she could bleed to death from the slightest cut, confirming her to a gloomy bubble of "safety". No friends. No fun. No life. But when a knife attack on Celia has unexpected consequences, her mum reacts strangely – and suddenly they're on the run. Why is her mum so scared? Someone out there knows. And when they find Celia, she's going to wish the truth was a lie....

Brian Selznick

The Marvels The illustrated story begins in 1766 with Billy Marvel, the lone survivor of a shipwreck, and charts the adventures of his family of actors over five generations. The prose story opens in 1990 and follows Joseph, who has run away from school to an estranged uncle's puzzling house in London, where he, along with the reader, must piece together many mysteries.

Tess Sharpe

The Girls I've Been To understand my story, you first have to know about the girls I've been. And that starts with my delightful con artist of a mother – because I didn't choose a life of deception, I was born into it.

Chris Vick

Girl. Boy. Sea. Bill is lost and alone on an endless sea after a storm sinks his yacht. His future seems as unpredictable as the ocean itself. Everything changes when he rescues another survivor from a different wreck. She is Aya, from the nomadic Berber tribe. As hope of rescue fades, Aya tells tales of magic inspired by Shahrazad, who wove 1001 stories to save her life. In the grip of hunger, at the mercy of the burning sun and the deadly deep, they begin a heart-stopping journey to find home.....

Jakob Wegelius

The Murderer's Ape Sally Jones is an extraordinary gorilla and a brilliant ship's engineer who sails the high seas on The Hudson Queen with her loyal friend the Chief. One day the shipmates are offered a mysterious job that promises to pay big bucks, but then disaster strikes, the job goes wrong and the Chief is falsely convicted of murder. For Sally Jones this is the start of a grand adventure and a desperate quest to clear her friend's name. By freighter, steam train and bi-plane the intrepid ape journeys from Lisbon to Bombay and beyond in search of the truth. But powerful forces are working against her, and they will do anything to protect their own secrets....

Elizabeth Wein

The Pearl Thief June, 1938. Julie Beaufort-Stuart returns for one last summer holiday at Strathfearn, her grandfather's Scottish estate. Soon the big old house will be sold, and Julie's childhood will vanish with it. But there are dangerous currents beneath the surface at Strathfearn that are not ready to let her go. A man is missing, presumed murdered, and many locals are blaming the McEwens, a Traveller family who have made camp at Strathfearn as long as Julie can remember. She is determined to prove her friends innocent. But before she can get to the bottom of the mystery Julie finds herself caught tight in a net woven of old drudges, intriguing strangers, buried secrets and rare, glimmering river pearls.

S.J Wills

Bite Risk (BBA 2024 Longlist) Sel Archer lives in an ordinary town with ordinary residents, except for one night a month....When the full moon rises, all of the adults turn into werewolves, and it's up to Sel and his friends to protect themselves from danger.

Lauren Wolk

Echo Mountain (Carnegie Shortlist 2021) By the time our first mountain winter came, we had a snug, safe home with four good rooms – one for us children, one for our parents, one for our kitchen, and one for everything else. A root cellar for what we'd grown the whole summer long. A place where we could start again. But that was before my father's accident changed everything.

CLASSICS

- Truman Capote Breakfast at Tiffany's Holly Golightly is generally up all night drinking cocktails and breaking hearts. She hasn't got a past. She doesn't want to belong to anything or anyone, not even to her one-eyed, rag-bag pirate of a cat. One day, Holly might find somewhere she belongs....
- Agatha Christie The Mysterious Affair at Styles After the Great War, life can never be the same again. Wounds need healing, and the horror of violent death banished from memory. Captain Arthur Hastings is invited to the rolling country estate of Styles to recuperate from injuries sustained at the Front. It is the last place he expects to encounter a murder. Fortunately he knows a former detective, a Belgian refugee, who has grown bored of his retirement.....
- Wilkie Collins The Moonstone The Moonstone, a priceless Indian diamond which had come to England as spoils of war, is given to Rachel Verrinder on her eighteenth birthday. That very night, the stone is stolen; suspicion falls on a hunchbacked housemaid, on Rachel's cousin Franklin Blake, on a troupe of mysterious Indian jugglers, and on Rachel herself. The phlegmatic Sergeant Cuff is called in, and with the help of Betteredge, the Robinson Crusoe-reading loquacious Steward, the mystery of the missing stone is ingeniously solved.
- F.Scott Fitzgerald Tender is the Night To the just-fashionable French Riviera come Dick and Nicole Driver – handsome, rich, glamorous and enormous fun. Their dinners are legend, their atmosphere magnetic, their intelligence fine. But something is wrong. Nicole has a secret and Dick a weakness. Together they head towards the rocks on which their lives crash – and only one of them really survives.
- George Orwell Down and out in Paris and London George Orwell's vivid memoir of his time living among the desperately poor and destitute is a moving tour of the underworld of society. Written when Orwell was a struggling writer in his twenties, it documents his 'first contact with poverty': sleeping in bug-infested hostels and doss houses of last resort, working as a dishwasher in Paris, surviving on scraps and cigarette butts, living alongside tramps, a star-gazing pavement artist and a starving Russian ex-army captain. Exposing a shocking, previously hidden world to readers, Orwell gave a human face to the statistics of poverty for the first time. In doing so, he found his voice as a writer
- Dodie Smith I Capture the Castle 'I write this sitting in the kitchen sink' is the first line of a novel about love, sibling rivalry and a bohemian existence in a crumbling castle in the middle of nowhere. Cassandra Mortmain's journal records her fadingly glamorous stepmother, her beautiful, wistful older sister and the man to who they owe both their isolation and poverty – Father. The author of one experimental novel, and a minor cause celebre, he has since suffered from writer's block and is determined to dray his family down with him. But if the iron has entered Father's soul it hasn't penetrated Cassandra's
- Evelyn Waugh Scoop Lord Copper, newspaper magnate and proprietor of the Daily Beast, has always prided himself on his intuitive flair for spotting ace reporters. That is not to say he has not made the odd blunder, however, and may in a moment of weakness make another. Acting on a dinner-party tip from Mrs Algernon Stitch, he feels convinced that he has hit on just the chap to cover a promising little war in the African Republic of Ishmaelia. Here begins Waugh's exuberant comedy of mistaken identity and his brilliant satire on Fleet Street and its relentless and hectic pursuit of hot news.
- Laura Wood The Agency for Scandal Isobel Stanhope is keeping a lot of secrets. She's head over heels in love with a Duke who doesn't know she exists; her family's fortune is lost; and then there's her job at the Aviary, an investigative agency run by women that specializes in blackmailing powerful men. When Izzy's secret crush becomes embroiled in her most dangerous case yet, the two must work together to uncover a sinister plot, unmask a villain, and definitely not fall in love. That would create QUITE a scandal....

DYSTOPIAN AND SCIENCE FICTION

- Ally Condie Matched On her seventeenth birthday, Cassia meets her Match. Society dictates he is her perfect partner for life. Except he's not. In Cassia's society, Officials decide who people love. How many children they have. Where they work. When they die. But, as Cassia finds herself falling in love with another boy, she is determined to make some choices of her own. And that's when her whole world begins to unravel.
- Jamie Costello Monochrome Early one morning, Grace wakes to find herself staring at an ashen sunrise in ominous grey skies. It's like watching a disaster movie, though her family don't seem to think anything is wrong. Grace is one of a handful of people in the country who are seeing the world in shades of grey. But this is only the beginning of the 'greyout'
- Lauren DeStefano Wither By age sixteen, Rhine Ellery has four years left to live. She can thank modern science for this genetic time bomb. A botched effort to create a perfect race has left all males with a lifespan of 25 years, and females with a lifespan of 20 years.
- Annabel Donald Be Nice Twenty-one teenage girls stranded on a desert island – a brilliant reworking of Lord of the Flies
- Sally Gardner My Side of the Diamond Jazmin has been shunned ever since her best friend Becky disappeared. But Becky didn't just disappear – she jumped off a tall building and seemingly never reached the ground. It was as if she simply vanished into thin air. Did Jazmin have something to do with her disappearance? Or was it more to do with Icarus, so beguiling and strangely ever youthful, with whom Becky became suddenly besotted....
- Michael Grant Monster The GONE series may be over, but it's not the end of the story, this is the first book of a new, explosive series. When the dome came down, they thought it was the end of the troubles. Truth is, it was just the beginning. Shade Darby witnessed events that day, with devastating consequences, and vowed never to feel that powerless again. Now, four years later, she gets her hands on a part of the meteor that began it all – and that's when she changes. Trouble is, Shade's not the only one mutating, and the authorities cannot allow these superpowers to go unchecked....
- Lauren James The Loneliest Girl in the Universe Romy Silvers is the only surviving crew member on a spaceship bound for a new planet. She is the loneliest girl in the universe, until she hears that a second spaceship has launched from Earth, with a single passenger on board. A boy called J.
- Gemma Malley The Declaration Anna Covey is a 'Surplus'. She should not have been born. In a society in which ageing is no longer feared, and death is no longer inevitable, children are an abomination
- Patrick Ness The Knife of Never Letting Go (Book 1 of Chaos Walking: A Trilogy – Book 2: The Ask and the Answer, Book 3: Monsters of Men (Carnegie 2011 Winner) Prentisstown isn't like other towns. Everyone can hear everyone else's thoughts in a constant, overwhelming, never-ending Noise. There is no privacy. There are no secrets. Then, just one month away from the birthday that will make Todd Hewitt a man, he unexpectedly stumbles on a spot of complete silence. Which is impossible.

Ben Oliver	The Loop (Book 1) Luka Kane will die in the Loop, a prison controlled by artificial intelligence. Delays to his execution are granted if he submits to medical experiments, but escape is made impossible by the detonator sewn into his heart. On Luka's sixteenth birthday, the monotony of life in the Loop alters: the government-issued rain stops falling and rumours of outside unrest start to spread. This might be his one chance to escape – and to stop the deletion of humankind....
Manon Steffan Ros	The Blue Book of Nebo (2023 Carnegie Shortlist) Dylan was six when The End came, back in 2018; when the electricity went off for good, and the 'normal' twenty-first-century world he knew disappeared.
Veronica Roth	Divergent In this dystopian Chicago, society is divided into five factions, each dedicated to the cultivation of a particular virtue – Candor (the honest), Abnegation (the selfless), Dauntless (the brave), Amity (the peaceful), and Erudite (the intelligent). On an appointed day of every year, all sixteen-year-olds must select the faction to which they will devote the rest of their lives
Neal Shusterman	Scythe (Book 1 of 3) (Book 2 Thunderhead and Book 3 The Toll) What if death was the only thing left to control? In a perfect world, the only way to die is to be gleaned by a professional scythe. When Citra and Rowan are chosen to be apprentice scythes, they know they have no option but to learn the art of killing. However, the terrifying responsibility of choosing their victims is just the start. Corruption is the order of the day and Citra and Rowan need to stick together to fight it. Then they are told that one of them will have to glean the other....
Neal Shusterman	Dry The drought – or the tap-out, as everyone calls it – has been going on for a while. Life has become an endless list of don'ts: don't water the lawn, don't take long showers, don't panic. But now there is no water left at all. Suddenly, Alyssa's quiet suburban street spirals into a warzone of desperation and violence. When her parents go missing, she and her younger brother must team up with an unlikely group in search of water. Each of them will need to make impossible choices to survive
Neal Shusterman	Unwind In a society where unwanted teens are salvaged for their body parts, three runaways fight the system that would "unwind" them

FANTASY. GOTHIC AND HORROR

Leigh Bardugo	Six of Crows (Book 1 of 2) Criminal prodigy, Kaz Brekker has been offered a chance at a deadly heist: break in to the Ice Court – a military stronghold that has never been breached – and retrieve a hostage whose knowledge could change Grisha magic forever. To succeed would mean riches beyond Kaz's wildest dreams, but he can't pull it off alone....
Leigh Bardugo	Shadow and Bone (Book 1 of 3: The Grisha) Alina Starkov is a soldier. When her regiment is attacked whilst crossing the Shadow Fold – a swath of unnatural darkness crawling with monsters – Alina unleashes dormant magic not even she knew she possessed. Now Alina will enter a lavish world of royalty and intrigue as she trains with the Grisha – the country's magical military elite – and falls under the spell of their notorious leader, the Darkling. He believes Alina can summon a force capable of destroying the Shadow Fold and reuniting their war-ravaged country, but only if she can master her untamed gift.
Kalynn Bayron	Cinderella is Dead It's 200 years since Cinderella found her prince....but the fairytale is over. Sophia knows the story though, off by heart. Because every girl has to recite it daily, from when she's tiny until the night she's sent to the royal ball for choosing. And every girl knows that she has only one chance. For the lives of those not chosen by a man at the ball....are forfeit. But Sophia doesn't want to be chosen. She doesn't want to go to the ball at all. Not when she's afraid the girl she loves might be chosen too. Pushed beyond breaking by a society that denies everything she is, Sophia sets out on a journey that will remake her world...into one where SHE gets to choose.

Alex Bell	Charlotte Says Following the death of her mother in a terrible fire, Jemima flees to the remote Isle of Skye, to take up a job at a school for girls. There she finds herself tormented by the mystery of what really happened that night. Then Jemima receives a box of Frozen Charlotte dolls from a mystery sender and she begins to remember – a séance with the dolls, a violent argument with her step-father and the inferno that destroyed their home. And when it seems that the dolls are triggering a series of accidents at the school, Jemima realizes she must stop the demonic spirits possessing the dolls – whatever it takes
Holly Black	The Cruel Prince One terrible morning, Jude and her sisters see their parents murdered in front of them. The fearsome assassin abducts all three girls and brings them to the world of Faerie. Mocked and tormented for being merely mortal, Jude soon realises that to survive in the treacherous, dangerous world of the royal court, she needs to be cunning and deceitful as the Fey themselves. But the stairway to power is fraught with shadows and betrayal. And looming over all is the arrogant and charismatic Prince Cardan.
Tim Bowler	Starseeker Luke is in trouble. Skin and the gang have a job for him. They want him to break into Mrs Little's house and steal her jewellery box. They want him to prove that he's got what it takes. That he's part of the gang. But Luke finds more than just a jewellery box in the house. He finds something so unexpected it will change his life forever....
Jessie Burton	Medusa: The Girl behind the Myth (2023 Carnegie Shortlist) Exiled to a far-flung island by the whims of the gods, Medusa has little company except the snakes that adorn her head instead of hair. Eoin Colfer	The Supernaturalist Cosmo Hill is a human guinea pig in an orphanage used by corporations to test new products. Statistics say he has about a year left to live – unless he escapes. But escapes what? To a world of high-tech gang warfare, SWAT teams of paralegals and a plague of four-fingered parasites who are invisible to everyone except three misfits who call themselves Supernaturalists. Could Cosmo be one of them? Are they the family he's always wanted? And if he does become a Supernaturalist, will his life get any longer – or a whole lot shorter?
Christelle Dabos	A Winter's Promise (Book 1 of The Mirror Visitor Quartet) (Book 2: The Missing of Clairdelune Book 3: The Memory of Babel) A mix of awkward misfit and misunderstood genius, Ophelia cares little about appearances or other people's opinions of her. She possesses two special gifts: a talent for reading the pasts of objects and the ability to travel through mirrors. Her peaceful existence on Anima is interrupted when she is promised in marriage to the taciturn Thorn, a member of a powerful clan from a cold and distant ark.
Natasha Bowen	Skin of the Sea Simidele is one of the Mami Wata, mermaids who collect the souls of those who die at sea and bless their journeys home. But when a boy is thrown overboard a ship of enslaved people, Simi saves his life, going against an ancient decree and bringing terrible danger to the Mami Wata.

Sharon Dogar	Monsters 1814: Two 16 year-old stepsisters run away with a married man. The results are devastating and the ripples will be felt for centuries. This is the incredible story of Mary Shelley – radical, rebellious and entranced. It is the story of a young woman who defies tradition and society, and who draws upon the monstrous elements of her own life to create Frankenstein and the most memorable monster of them all
Berlie Doherty	The Company of Ghosts It was a seascape, moody with rocks and cliffs and wild showers of spray. Ellie’s own reflection was drawn into it, like a ghost image among the lights and shadows. ‘That’s our island’, Morag said. ‘It looks mysterious. It is. That’s where we’re going tomorrow’. Ellie is excited to be going with Morag’s family to their beautiful island, but when she finds herself abandoned there, things begin to change. Footsteps, shadows, strange lights, a haunting song: more and more she becomes aware that she is not really on her own....
Namina Forna	The Gilded Ones Deka lives in fear of the blood ceremony that will determine whether she can become a member of her village. If she bleeds red, she will belong. But on the day of the ceremony, her blood runs gold – the colour of impurity, a demon.
P.M. Freestone	The Darkest Bloom (Book 1 of the Shadowscent series) In the empire of Aramtesh, scent has power. When disaster strikes and the crown prince lies poisoned, long-suppressed rivalries threaten to blow the empire apart. It’s up to Rakel, a poor village girl with a talent for fragrances, and Ash, the prince’s loyal bodyguard, to find an antidote. To succeed, the unlikely pair must uncover cryptic, ancient secrets as well as buried truths from their own pasts in an adventure that will ignite your senses.
Neil Gaiman	The Ocean at the End of the Lane This is what he remembers, as he sits by the ocean at the end of the lane: A dead man on the back seat of the car; An ancient little girl, and an old woman who saw the mood being made; A beautiful housekeeper with a monstrous smile; And dark forces woken that were best left undisturbed. They are memories hard to believe, waiting at the edges of things. The recollections of a man who thought he was lost but is now, perhaps, remembering a time when he was saved....
Frances Hardinge	A Skinful of Shadows When a creature dies, its spirit can go looking for somewhere to hide. Some people have space inside them, perfect for hiding. Makepeace, a courageous girl with a mysterious past, defends herself nightly from the ghosts which try to possess her. Then a dreadful event causes her to drop her guard for a moment. And now there’s a ghost inside her. The spirit is wild, brutish and strong, but it may be her only defence in a time of dark suspicion and fear. As the English Civil War erupts, Makepeace must decide which is worse possession – or death
Frances Hardinge	Fly by Night Everybody knew that books were dangerous, read the wrong book, it was said, and the words crawled around your brain on black legs and drove you mad....In a land where books are considered dangerous, Mosca Mye, an orphan with an all-consuming hunger for words, and her loyal companion (a large and homicidal goose) are about to become the unlikely heroes of a revolution....
Frances Hardinge	Unraveller In a world where anyone can create a life-destroying curse, only one person has the power to unravel them. Kellen does not fully understand his talent, but helps those transformed maliciously - including Nettle. Recovered from entrapment in bird form, she is now his constant companion, and closest ally. But Kellen has also been cursed, and unless he and Nettle can remove his curse, Kellen is in danger of unravelling everything - and everyone - around him...
Finbar Hawkins	Witch She watches her mother die at the hands of witch hunters....and a desire for revenge burns like fury in her, summoning magic more potent than ever before or since. But Evey has promised to keep her sister safe too. With a storm gathering, she searches for a light in the darkness. A flicker of hope that will guide them to a brighter, kinder world, where Dill can dance – and they can be free.

Lauren James	The Reckless Afterlife of Harriet Stoker When Harriet Stoker dies after falling from a balcony in a long-abandoned building, she discovers a group of ghosts, each with a special power. Felix, Kasper, Rima and Leah welcome Harriet into their world, eager to make friends with the new arrival after decades alone. Yet Harriet is more interested in unleashing her own power, even it means destroying everyone around her. But when all of eternity is at stake, the afterlife can be a dangerous place to make an enemy.
Lauren James	Green Rising (Carnegie Longlist 2023) Gabrielle, Theo and Hester have grown up in an ecological catastrophe: climate change is making Earth uninhabitable. But when they join thousands of teenagers around the world in developing a strange new power – the ability to grow plants from their skin – it seems there may be hope for the planet after all.
Lauren James	The Quiet at the End of the World Lowrie and Shen are the youngest people on the planet after a virus caused global infertility. Closeted in a pocket of London and doted upon by a small, ageing community, the pair spend their days mudlarking and looking for treasure – until a secret is uncovered that threatens their entire existence. In the quiet at the end of the world, Lowrie and Shen must decide what they are willing to sacrifice to save the whole human race....
Brigid Kemmerer	A Vow so Bold and Deadly (Book 3 The Cursebreaker series) (Book 1: A Curse so Dark and Lonely, Book 2: A Heart so Fierce and Broken) The thrilling conclusion to the Cursebreak trilogy ups the ante on regal intrigue as Grey competes for the throne of Emberfell and Lia Mara is forced to decide where her loyalties truly lie.
Shelby Mahurin	Blood & Honey (Book 2 of The Serpent & Dove series) Lou, Reid, Coco and Ansel are on the run from coven, kingdom and church-fugitives with nowhere to hide. To survive, they need allies. Strong ones. But as Lou becomes increasingly desperate to save those she loves, she turns to a darker side of magic that may cost Reid the one thing he can't bear to lose.

When the country is hit by unprecedented flooding, Madame Suprema runs away, fearing she will be blamed for the crisis. To cover up this cowardly act, Gloria is made to step into Madame Suprema's shoes and is thrust into a world of corrupt and desperate politicians.
Emily Bain Murphy	The Disappearances Every seven years something disappears in the remote town of Sterling: people's reflections, the stars in the sky, the ability to dream. Aila realises that her mother may be to blame for the curse. But some mysteries are buried very deep and some secrets want to stay hidden – and one young woman's desire to uncover the truth may not be enough to save the people of Sterling from the past.
Emily Bain Murphy	Splinters of Scarlet Marit vowed never to use magic again – its force can be fatal. But when her best friend Eve is adopted by a legendary former dancer, Marit draws upon her powers to secure a job with the wealthy family so that she can watch over her. But Marit has another, secret motivation: her father died while working in the family's mines, and she has reason to believe he was murdered.
Patrick Ness	Burn (Carnegie Longlist 2021) On a cold Sunday evening in early 1957, Sarah Dewhurst waited with her father in the parking lot of the Chevron gas station for the dragon he'd hired to help on the farm. This dragon, Kazimir, has more to him than meets the eye. Sarah can't help but be curious about him, an animal who supposedly doesn't have a soul but is seemingly intent on keeping her safe from the brutal attentions of Deputy Sheriff Emmett Kelly.

- Garth Nix Clariel (Prequel to The Old Kingdom Trilogy) Sixteen-year-old Clariel has only recently arrived in the royal city of Belisaere, and she is not adjusting well to her new life filled with courtiers, false flattery, secrets and endless rules of propriety. But when a dangerous Free Magic creature is discovered, Clariel is given a chance to prove herself. She is delighted – until events rapidly spiral out of her control. The ancient rules binding Abhorsen, King and Clayr appear to be crumbling, and Clariel must decide between her duty and her dreams.
- Caroline O’Donoghue All Our Hidden Secrets (Book 1 All Our Hidden Secrets) Maeve Chambers doesn’t have any special gifts. That is until she finds a dusty old pack of tarot cards, and starts giving uncannily accurate readings to everyone around her. But when she reads for her ex-best friend Lily, a strange card appears in the deck – and everything goes wrong. Lily doesn’t come to school the next day, or the next, and Maeve knows she’s been taken somewhere the police will never find her. Only the cards – and something older, something even more powerful – can bring her back.
- Caroline O’Donoghue The Gifts that Bind Us (Sequel to All our Hidden Secrets) Maeve and her friends have spent the summer practising their gifts: Maeve can read minds, Roe picks locks, Fiona can heal and Lily channels electricity. But with strange things happening at school and old enemies appearing in new places, it’s clear their powers are attracting the wrong attention. And it’s not long before Maeve’s gift starts to wane, drained by someone – or something – hiding even from her second sight.
- Kenneth Oppel The Nest The first time I saw them, I thought they were angels....Steve’s newborn baby brother is seriously ill and his parents are struggling to cope. When a mysterious wasp queen invades his dreams and makes him an offer that could transform his life, all Steve has to do is say yes. But ‘yes’ is a powerful, dangerous word. And once it is uttered, can it be taken back?

HISTORICAL

Aidan Chambers

Postcards from no man's land Jacob Todd, abroad on his own for the first time, arrives in Amsterdam for the commemoration of the Battle of Arnhem where his grandfather fought fifty years before. He meets the terminally ill Geertrui, an old lady who tells an extraordinary story of love and betrayal, linking Jacob with her own Dutch family in a way he never suspected and leading him to question his place in the world.

Tracey Chevalier	Girl with a Pearl Earring When Griet becomes a maid in the household of the painter Johannes Vermeer, she thinks she knows her role: housework, laundry and the care of his six children. But as she becomes part of his world and his work, their growing intimacy spreads tension and deception in the ordered household and, as the scandal seeps out, into the town beyond.
Vanessa Curtis	The Stolen Ones My name is Inge. I am sixteen. I live with Mama and Papa in Munich. Food is still rationed, though the war ended over ten years ago. My boyfriend is Jewish. I have to hide this from my parents. Sometimes I think they are hiding something from me too. Letters arrive every year on my birthday, but they are not addressed to me. They are for a girl named Kasia. This is her story.
Anthony Doerr	All the Light we Cannot See For Marie-Laure, blind since the age of six, the world is full of mazes. The miniature of a Paris neighbourhood, made by her father to teach her the way home. The microscopic layers within the invaluable diamond that her father guards in the Museum of Natural History. The walled city by the sea, where father and daughter take refuge when the Nazis invade Paris. And a future which draws her ever closer to Werner, a German orphan, destined to labour in the mines until a broken radio fills his life with possibility and brings him to the notice of the Hitler Youth.
Sally Gardner	Invisible in a Bright Light It is 1870: opening night at the Royal Opera House in a freezing city by the sea, where a huge, crystal chandelier in the shape of a galleon sparkles magically with the light of 750 candles. Celeste, a theatre rat, wakes up in a costume basket from what she hopes is a bad dream, to find that everyone at the theatre where she works thinks she is someone else. When the chandelier falls, she is haunted by a strange girl who claims to know Celeste's past and why she must risk playing a game called the Reckoning to try to save the people she loves
Jamila Gavin	Coram Boy A tale of two cities - Gloucester and London. A tale of two boys – Toby, saved from an African slave ship; Aaron, the illegitimate son of the heir to a great estate. A tale of fathers and sons – Otis, dealing in the vilest trade of all, and his son Meshak, not quite of this world; Sir William Ashbrook, landowner, and Alexander, the son he disinherits. An epic journey fraught with every danger and excitement, until love triumphs over hatred and corruption
Jamila Gavin	Never Forget You England, 1937. Gwen. Noor. Dodo. Vera. Four very different teenage girls, with one thing in common. Their parents are all abroad, leaving them at boarding school, where they soon form an intense friendship. The friends think that no matter what, they will always have each other. Then everything changes.
Candy Gourlay	Bone Talk Samkad dreams of becoming a mighty headhunter like his father, carrying his own weapons and etching tattoos across his chest to proclaim his greatness as a warrior. His best friend is a girl his age, Little Luki, and Little Luki wants to become a mighty warrior too.... except in their culture, girls don't grow up to become warriors. The two friends have no idea about the world outside their isolated mountain village until a boy from the Lowlands turns up....a boy who can speak many tongues and who tells stories about the world outside that seem ridiculous and unbelievable especially the part about invaders called 'Americans' who are coming to take over the village.
Lian Hearn	Across the Nightingale Floor (Book 1 Tales of the Otori) In his black walled fortress at Inuyama, the murderous warlord, Iida Sadamu, surveys his famous nightingale floor. Constructed with exquisite skill, it sings at the tread of each human foot. No assassin can cross it unheard.

Mary Hooper	Fallen Grace London, 1861. Grace Parkes, a pale but determined figure, clutches a precious bundle closely to her as she travels on the train to the famed Brookwood Cemetery. Grace has a heartbreaking duty to carry out.

NON FICTION

Bill Bryson	Notes from a Small Island His aim was to take stock of the nation’s public face and private parts (as it were), and to analyse what precisely it was he loved so much about a country that had produced Marmite; people who said ‘Mustn’t grumble’ and ‘Ooh lovely’ at the sight of a cup of tea and a plate of biscuits, and Gardeners’ Question Time
Jung Chang	Wild Swans The story of three generations of women in her own family – the grandmother given to the warlord as a concubine, the Communist mother and the daughter herself – Jung Chang reveals the epic history of China’s twentieth century
Gerald Durrell	My family and other animals I don’t know why my brothers and sisters complain so much. With snakes in the bath and scorpions on the lunch table, our house, on the island of Corfu, is a bit like a circus. So they should feel right at home....
E.H. Gombrich	A Little History of the World E.H. Gombrich’s bestselling history of the world for young readers tells the story of mankind from the Stone Age to the atomic bomb, focusing not on small detail but on the sweep of human experience, the extent of human achievement, and the depth of its frailty. The product of a generous and humane sensibility, this timeless account makes intelligible the full span of human history. In forty concise chapters, Gombrich tells the story of man from the Stone Age to the atomic bomb. In between emerges a colourful picture of wars and conquests, grand works of art, and the spread and limitations of science. This a text dominated not by dates and facts, but by the sweep of mankind's experience across the centuries, a guide to humanity's achievement and an acute witness to its frailties

Wendy Holden

Born Survivors Among millions of Holocaust victims sent to Auschwitz II-Birkenau in 1944, Priska, Rachel and Anka each passed through its infamous gates with a secret. Strangers to each other, they were newly pregnant, and facing an uncertain fate without their husbands. Alone, scared, and with so many loved ones already lost to the Nazis, these young women were privately determined to hold on to all they had left: their lives, and those of their unborn babies. That the gas chambers ran out of Zyklon-B just after the babies were born, before they and their mothers could be exterminated, is just one of several miracles that allowed them all to survive and rebuild lives after World War II

Laurie Lee

Cider with Rosie The vivid memoir of childhood in a remote Cotswold village, a village before electricity or cars, a timeless place on the verge of change

Sungju Lee

Every Falling Star The memoir of Sungju Lee, a North Korean boy who was forced at the age of twelve to live on the streets and fend for himself. Frank McCourt

Angela's Ashes A story of extreme hardship and suffering, in Brooklyn tenements and Limerick slums – too many children, too little money, his mother Angela barely coping as his father Malachy's drinking bouts constantly bring the family to the brink of disaster. It is a story of courage and survival against apparently overwhelming odds

Christopher Nolan

Under the eye of the clock This is the story of Joseph Meehan, born cruelly handicapped and known to the world as 'the crippled boy'. Filled with insight into the soul inside a broken body and warm with the beauties of the Irish landscape it is the story of Joseph's fight to escape the restrictions and confines of his existence

Simon Singh

Big Bang The story of the brilliant minds that deciphered the mysteries of the Big Bang. A fascinating exploration of the ultimate question: how was our universe created?

Nigel Slater

Toast An autobiography of a childhood remembered through food. Whether recalling his mother's surprisingly good rice pudding, his father's bold foray into spaghetti and his dreaded Boxing Day stew, or such culinary highlights as Arctic Roll and Grilled Grapefruit (then considered something of a status symbol in Wolverhampton), this remarkable memoir vividly recreates daily life in 1960's suburban England.

Ellie Wiesel

Night Ellie Wiesel was sent to the Nazi concentration camp at Auschwitz and Buchenwald. This is his account of that atrocity: the ever-increasing horrors he endured, the loss of his family and his struggle to survive in a world that stripped him of humanity, dignity and faith
